In Memory Of Madison "Madi" Claire Jaurigue April 27, 1997 - March 8, 2012

During our middle school years, it was hard for the Class of 2017 to remember a time that the hallway wasn't filled with cheer when Madison Claire, better known as Madi, was around school. Everyone who knew Madi knew how easily her laughter filled each soul, making it simple to say that she could always be counted on when someone needed a smile.

On March 8, 2012, our community said goodbye to Madi, but we quickly made sure that her spirit and legacy continued on. Through the color yellow, ducks, and lots of shared memories, Madi's truly empathetic and kind personality lives on.

In just 15 short years, Madi made the world brighter; touching everyone in someway with each shared laugh and smile. Without a doubt, it can be said that Madi changed each and every member of the school and Rutland community for the better.

On our wrists are bracelets with yellow and purple writing expressing the words love, laugh and smile. These bracelets have special meaning as they are the lasting message shared by Madi's cheerful spirit. May it be because of her contagious and constant laughter, her smile, and her ability to make the darkness into light, that the memories of Madi live on...
